2. In total 118 nominations were received online up till the revised last date of submission of nominations i.e. 5th October, 2016. As per course circular of even number dated 1st July, 2016 the nominees were also directed to send the print out of the nominations duly sponsored by the sponsoring authorities. But only 77 participants submitted the copies of the nominations sponsored by the sponsoring authorities. Besides, nominations of ten participants have also been received from Cabinet Secretariat for inclusion of their names in this course. They have not submitted the nominations online due to security reasons. They have requested Director, ISTM to consider the names of maximum number of candidates. As such, the selection of the participants has been done out of total 87 nominations.

3. After scrutiny, the nominations were segregated Department / Organisation wise. From some Organisations large number of nominations were received. However, selection process has been undertaken as per the selection criteria only. As per prevailing practice selection of participants is done in such a way that fairer chance is given to the nominees from various Departments/Ministries. If larger no. of nominations are received from any Department / Organisation then their participants are considered in the course proportionately as per their priority, to avoid any legal complication later on. Also if more eligible nominees are there, preference is given to them who are nearing the upper age limit criteria, subject to fulfilment of other conditions. But this time the eligible nominees are not on the higher side, we have considered maximum no. of participants from Defence (being a larger Organisation). Scrutiny of the nomination and their screening has been done as per the given details:-

4. With respect to Sl. No. 10 above it is submitted that a special request was received from Deputy Secretary, Cabinet Secretariat for including 10 of their officials in the forthcoming 165th Cash and Accounts Course. The matter of selecting the officials of Cabinet Secretariat was discussed with JD(KGR) and DD(RKK) and it was decided, as a very special case, to take their some of the nominees. It is seen from the nominations that 4 officials out of 10 are above the age of 52 on the date of the starting the course, hence not eligible for this course as per the eligibility criteria mentioned in the course circular. It is proposed that out of remaining 6 nominees we may consider to take 3 officials this time. Yesterday the undersigned received a telephonic call from the office of Cabinet Secretariat. They informed that out of remaining six three senior (age-wise) officials may be considered this time. Remaining three may be considered in the next course.

5. Approval of Director may kindly be solicited for accepting the nomination of 34 participants as detailed above. In case there are one or two absentees, due to forthcoming Budget Sessions, the participants in the course would be around 31 - 32, which is a manageable strength.
